This 8 hour EPA accredited course presented by an EPA Certified Instructor, trains and provides the "Certified Renovator" designation to maintenance staff and contractors who do renovation, repair and painting. You will learn how to work safely in housing with lead-based paint and comply with EPA's Renovation, Repair and Painting (RRP) Rule and HUD's Lead Safe Housing Rule that became effective in April, 2010. The content includes health concerns, regulations, before, during and after work procedures, recordkeeping and training non-certified workers. The Certified Renovator designation is required for anyone who is involved in any construction activity that will or has the potential to contact lead based paint.

You will receive: 8 hours of training by an EPA Certified Instructor; lecture and hands-on components; student photo for ID card; laminated ID card certifying student is work-ready. The regulations apply to organizations that conduct renovations or repairs, including painting or window replacements, on housing constructed prior to 1978...in facilities that can be occupied by children under the age of six or where residents may include a pregnant woman. Any firm or individual performing this type of work IS REQUIRED to have at least one representative who has attended this certification course. If work is performed where Federal funds have been utilized (such as Section 8, housing authority, USDA financed), then ALL workers must be Certified Renovators (or the Certified Renovator must also have a 32 hour Lead Supervisor training card). Those who earn their certification must be on site during the set-up and tear down of containments and during the cleaning verification process – and meet other requirements. The trainer is Cookie Kaufman of RGA Environmental. Cookie is a dynamic, results-drive professional trainer with a more than 20 year record of achievement and demonstrated success providing course development and delivery in a variety of modalities. A Certified Safety and Health Specialist, she combines 10 years of teaching experience with a specialized experience developing courses for Fortune 500 companies such as Boeing and Microsoft.
